

MARTIN COCKROFT
Agreeing with Larry Levis

If there is only one world
it is this one

white leaves
on an empty street

a morning
deprived of school bells
or a sidewalk

like pieces of bone
whisked clean

a wall
looking for stones
loose children

no one bothers
to gather