Self-service chequebook printing service for your unmanned branch strategy

The CJD 8000 is a Self Service Chequebook Dispensing Machine specifically designed for instant chequebook requests.

While the traditional outsourcing method of chequebook production and delivery have served many banks very well over the years, customers today are reluctant to wait for days to receive their replenished chequebooks.

Banking services which are now offered on a 24/7 basis via self-service, telephone, online and virtual banking channels have become the expected norms of your customers' experience. As such, progressive banks are keen to implement the CJD 8000 chequebook printing technology because it gives their customers round-the-clock accessibility and the fastest response time.
