Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Quadlogic Controls Corporation as of February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Quadlogic Controls Corporation

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

This summary of the significant accounting policies of Quadlogic Controls Corporation (“Quadlogic” or the “Company”) is presented to assist in the understanding of the financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company’s management, who is responsible for the integrity and objectivity of the financial statements. These accounting policies conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

(a) History and Business Activity

The Company is engaged in the business of electricity metering, monitoring and control. All Quadlogic metering products feature the Company’s proprietary robust power line communications technology. The business consists of three segments. First is the design, manufacture and sale of the “smart” metering system, a line of digital, microprocessor controlled meters that, in communication with the Quadlogic Transponder, measures and remotely monitors the time and amount of electricity consumption and other diagnostics. The second segment supports the first and consists of technical services including meter reading, customer billing, and system repair and maintenance. The third segment, the Energy Guard™ system of concentrated metering, is sold primarily to utilities in countries where electricity theft is common. It consists of pole-mounted sealed panels of meters, remote data concentrators and sub-station based data collectors capable of remote metering, theft and tamper detection and remote power disconnect and reconnect. The Company’s revenues for the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015 were generated from sales to foreign customers 40.1% and 36.9%, respectively. Canadian sales represented approximately 30.5% and 34.4% and other foreign sales represented 9.5 % and 2.5% of total revenues for the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015. The Company’s customers include real estate development and construction companies, owners and operators of multi-tenant commercial and residential buildings, distributors and foreign electric utility companies.

The Company’s stock is not listed on any organized exchange but is traded on the over-the-counter market. The Company’s common stock is quoted on the OTC Markets (Pink) and experiences limited trading activity.

(b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(c) Accounts Receivable

The Company carries its accounts receivable at cost less allowances for doubtful accounts and returns. On a periodic basis, the Company evaluates its accounts receivable and establishes allowances for doubtful accounts and returns based on a history of past write-offs, collections, returns and current conditions.

(d) Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the sale of electric metering equipment at the time of shipment to the customer. Revenues from meter read and bill services, and from repair and technical services are recognized at the time the services are rendered.

Quadlogic Controls Corporation

Notes to Financial Statements

(e) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company follows the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 820, "Fair Value Measurement," which defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. ASC 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between (1) market participant assumptions developed based on market data obtained from independent sources (observable inputs) and (2) an entity's own assumptions about market participant assumptions developed based on the best information available in the circumstances (unobservable inputs).

The fair value hierarchy consists of three broad levels, which gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described as follows:

- Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that are accessible at the measurement date.
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. Level 2 inputs include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; and inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.
- Level 3 - Inputs that are unobservable for the asset or liability.

The carrying value of the Company's cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximates their fair values based on the short-term nature of such items. The carrying value of the installment debt and secured line of credit approximates fair value since the interest rate is at terms currently available to the Company.

(f) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, with cost determined on the first-in, first-out basis.

(g) Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization are provided principally on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, as follows:

Machinery and equipment	5 years
Office furniture and equipment	3-7 years
Computer equipment and software costs	3-5 years
Tools, dies and molds	3 years

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the estimated useful life of the asset or the term of the lease.

Quadlogic Controls Corporation

Notes to Financial Statements

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred, while renewals and betterments that materially extend the life of an asset are capitalized. The cost of assets sold, retired, or otherwise disposed of, and the related allowance for depreciation, are eliminated from the accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized.

(h) Patents

The Company owns various patents of technology concerning its electronic metering systems and processes. The costs associated with the acquisition of patents, and the costs of registering the patents, are capitalized and amortized on the straight-line basis over their remaining lives. Amortization expense for the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015 amounted to approximately $20,000 and $19,000, respectively.

(i) Trademarks

The Company owns two trademarks in various countries. The cost of registering the trademarks are capitalized and amortized on the straight-line basis over the remaining lives. Amortization expense for the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015 amounted to approximately $2,300 for each year.

(j) Research and Development

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred.

(k) Shipping and Handling

Shipping and handling costs incurred in shipping products to customers are expensed as incurred and included in cost of meters sold. Shipping costs totaled approximately $143,000 and $129,000 for the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015, respectively. All shipping and handling costs billed to customers are recorded in revenue.

(l) Stock-based Compensation

The Company follows the provisions of ASC 718 for stock-based compensation. This statement requires entities to measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments based on the grant date fair value of the award over the service period.

2. Deferred Taxes

The Company provides for income taxes and recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities on the balance sheet using the liability method for income taxes. The liability method requires that all deferred tax balances be determined by using the applicable tax rate expected to be in effect when the taxes will actually be paid or when refunds are received. The applicable tax rate is applied to the differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements. The resulting deferred tax asset or liability is adjusted to reflect changes in tax laws as they occur. Valuation allowances are established, if necessary, to reduce the deferred tax assets and liabilities (see Note 11).

3. Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash balances in financial institutions in New York. From time to time, the Company has cash balances that may exceed federally insured limits.

Quadlogic Controls Corporation

Notes to Financial Statements

The Company's trade receivables are potentially subject to credit risk. The Company extends credit to its customers based upon an evaluation of the customers' financial condition and credit history. The Company's policies do not require collateral to support accounts receivable. However, because of the diversity and creditworthiness of the individual accounts that comprise the total balance, management does not believe that the Company is subject to any significant credit risk.

For the fiscal years ended February 29, 2016 and February 28, 2015, revenues derived from two customers amounted to $2,493,453 or 19.2% and $2,700,729 or 22.2% of total revenues, respectively.
