The Kunsthalle Mannheim presents the new project URBAN NATURE by Rimini Protokoll in cooperation with the National Theater Mannheim starting July 15, 2022, which revolves around the theme of "urban society". The exhibition rooms of the Kunsthalle Mannheim are transformed into a walk-through labyrinth where visitors virtually meet seven experts of everyday life. They are immersed in the reality of an investment consultant with a luxurious office or in the world of a homeless person looking for a place to sleep.

The concept of URBAN NATURE constantly encourages visitors to change their perspective, to question their own realities and enables completely unexpected and unique experiences that blur the boundaries between exhibition and staging. With an innovative framework, the Kunsthalle Mannheim creates a public place of discussion and reflection called the "Stadtzimmer", or "City Room", that is accessible free of charge. In the atrium of the museum, the local urban society will be anchored in the center of the exhibition house.
