2023 Craft Research Fund - Exhibition Grant
Grant Kit

Grants up to $15,000 awarded to support exhibition research that encourages, expands, and supports scholarly craft research in the United States.

The Exhibition Grant is one of four categories that make up the Craft Research Fund, a visionary program dedicated to supporting scholarly craft research in the United States. Since 2005 the Center annually grants $95,000 to academic researchers, independent scholars, curators, and graduate students writing, revising, and reclaiming the history of craft.

GRANT GOALS
The Craft Research Fund was created to encourage, expand and support scholarly craft research in the United States.

Encourage
To encourage innovative research on critical issues in craft theory and history

Expand
To investigate neglected questions on craft history and criticism

Support
To support new cross-disciplinary approaches to scholarship in craft

ELIGIBILITY
Proposals are welcome from museums, non-profit galleries, and independent curators.

- This grant is intended to support scholarly research and is not for the creation of artwork
This grant is not for the dissemination of already completed research

Applicants must be:
- Applicants must be able to receive taxable income in the U.S. for the duration of the grant and report this grant as income
- Applicants must be 18 years of age or older

Applicants cannot be:
- Applicants cannot be disqualified persons, such as substantial contributors to the Center for Craft as well as current employees, consultants, or board members of the Center for Craft, or immediate family members of such a person.

If an applicant has been previously awarded a Center for Craft grant but did not complete the project or is still in the progress of completing the project they are not eligible to apply.

Applicants may either apply for the Craft Research Fund Project Grant or the Craft Research Fund Exhibition Grant, but may not apply for both grants in the same year.

The Center for Craft prohibits discrimination, harassment, and retaliation based on sex, sexual orientation, race, color, religion, national origin, disability or perceived disability, age, marital status, gender identity, veteran status, or any other protected category. The Center encourages applications from historically underrepresented populations. Applying does not constitute a promise or guarantee of being awarded a grant.

Examples of craft research might include:
- Research providing new insight into work by historical or contemporary craft artists in the United States
- Presenting a new understanding of the relationship between hand-made production and digital technologies
- Providing a new contribution to the history of craft in the United States
- Projects that place American craft in a global context
- Or other topics that offer fresh perspectives within the craft field

USE OF FUNDS
- Grant funds may be used to support research activities including travel and living expenses, commissioning essays for contributors, documentation such as images or rights to use images or text, photocopies or other reproductions, and other incidental research expenses.
- The grant awards are not for exhibition production, installation, exhibition travel or management.
- This award does not cover publication printing costs or distribution.
- For museums, galleries, universities, and organizations who are applying to the grant, please limit staffing and overhead costs to 15% of your total budget ask, i.e. if applying for $15,000 in support, total personnel and overhead costs should be a maximum of $2,250.

● For individuals who are applying to the grant, please provide your rationale for your stipend or honorarium in the budget narrative.

● No capital equipment purchases are eligible for support. Capital equipment is defined: laptops, recorders, printers, or other items not listed.

● For the purpose of this grant, the Center for Craft requires that all grant recipients provide financial remuneration to working artists for their time, labor, and services rendered towards the awarded project scope and goals. For remuneration estimates, we recommend consulting the floor wages listed on the Working Artists and the Greater Economy (W.A.G.E.) fee calculator website at https://wageforwork.com/feecalculator#top

● When working with community members, the Center for Craft requires that all grant recipients provide financial remuneration for their time, labor, and services rendered toward the awarded project scope and goals

● For travel purposes, the Center for Craft recommends recipients follow the Federal Travel Regulation and Reimbursement Rates.

GRANT REQUIREMENTS

● Seventy percent of the grant will be awarded upon execution of the grant agreement and receipt of the awardee’s W9.

● Recipients will provide a status report on the project halfway through the grant period (September 30, 2023).

● Recipients must provide content for at least one blog post.

● The final thirty percent of the grant will be awarded upon receipt of a final report to include a project narrative, a budget report and two copies of any publication produced as a result of the research grant. The project and final report must be completed in 18 months, with a deadline of July 31, 2024. If there is no publication, then provide a copy of the completed research in full.

● The Center for Craft recognizes that some projects that include publications may take longer than the designated timeframe of the grant award to publish finalized research. The Center will work with the grant recipient to disburse funds at the date of the Center’s receipt of final, published material, even as that date furthers from the original timeline of the grant period.

● Recipients will acknowledge support from the “Craft Research Fund Exhibition Grant administered by the Center for Craft” in any publications or presentations resulting from the grant.

● The Center for Craft reserves the right to limit support of a project to a particular portion(s) or cost(s).

CRITERIA/REVIEW PROCESS

Proposals will be reviewed by the Center for Craft staff for completeness and evaluated by an outside review panel, who are recognized craft scholars, faculty and/or curators, free of any conflict of interest, based on the following criteria:
● If completed properly, the proposal will advance scholarship and knowledge on craft in the United States
● The plan for dissemination identifies the audience, is reasonable, and has supporting documentation as appropriate
● The project is feasible based on the timeline, expertise, and budget reflected in the application
● The project addresses the goals of the Craft Research Fund
● Representation and/or visibility - priority will be given to applicants who are underrepresented in the field or projects that address underrepresentation in the field
● The project is consistent with and furthers the mission of the Center for Craft.

Considerations in final selection:
The Center for Craft respects, values, and celebrates the unique attributes, characteristics and perspectives that make each person who they are. We foster open communication of diverse perspectives and bring a broad range of individuals together to enrich and support programming. Ultimately we will ask the Selection Panel to compose a set of recipients deserving of further recognition while prioritizing diversity, both in and outside of academia, and representing a range of geographies, materials, and communities served.

The Center for Craft reserves the right to limit support of a project to a particular portion(s) or cost(s).
