2024 Craft Research Fund - Project Grant

Grant Kit

Updated May 2023

Grants up to $15,000 are awarded to support projects that encourage, expand, and support scholarly craft research in the United States.

The Project Grant is one of three categories that make up the Craft Research Fund, a visionary program dedicated to supporting scholarly craft research in the United States. Since 2005 the Center annually grants $95,000 to academic researchers, independent scholars, curators, and graduate students writing, revising, and reclaiming the history of craft.

The Craft Research Fund program is supported in part by the Windgate Foundation.

GRANT GOALS
The Craft Research Fund was created to encourage, expand and support scholarly craft research in the United States.

Encourage
To encourage innovative research on critical issues in craft theory and history

Expand
To investigate neglected questions on craft history and criticism

Support
To support new cross-disciplinary approaches to scholarship in craft

ELIGIBILITY
Proposals are welcome from academic researchers and independent scholars.

- This grant is intended to support scholarly research and is not for the creation of artwork.
- This grant is not for the dissemination of already completed research.

Applicants must be:
- Applicants must be able to receive taxable income in the U.S. for the duration of the grant and report this grant as income
- Applicants must be 18 years of age or older

Applicants cannot be:
- Substantial contributors to the Center for Craft as well as current employees, consultants, or board members of the Center for Craft, or immediate family members of such a person.

If an applicant has been previously awarded a Center for Craft grant, but did not complete the project, or is still in the progress of completing a grant or fellowship they are not eligible to apply.

Applicants may only receive one Center for Craft grant and/or fellowship per year. Awards cannot be deferred to the next year due to outstanding applications or multiple awards.

The Center encourages applications from historically underrepresented populations. The Center for Craft prohibits discrimination, harassment, and retaliation based on sex, sexual orientation, race, color, religion, national origin, disability or perceived disability, age, marital status, gender identity, veteran status, or any other protected category. Applying does not constitute a promise or guarantee of being awarded a grant.

Examples of scholarly craft research might include:
- Research providing new insight into work by historical or contemporary craft artists in the U.S.
- Projects presenting a new understanding of the relationship between handmade production and digital technologies
- Providing a new contribution to the history of craft in the United States
- Projects that place American craft in a global context
- Or other topics that offer fresh perspectives within craft
USE OF FUNDS

- Grant funds may be used for research-related expenses including travel and living expenses, subcontracted research assistance, contracted services (such as photography), support documentation such as images or rights to use images or text, photocopies or other reproductions, purchase of primary source materials, and other incidental research expenses.
- For travel purposes, the Center for Craft recommends applicants use the following resources U.S. General Services Administration and Budget Your Trip.
- For individuals applying, please provide a rationale for your personal stipend or honorarium in the budget narrative.
- No capital equipment purchases are eligible for support. Examples of capital equipment may include: laptops, recorders, printers, or other items not listed.
- This award does not cover publication printing costs or dissemination.
- For the purpose of this grant, the Center for Craft requires that all grant recipients provide financial remuneration to working artists for their time, labor, and services rendered towards the awarded project scope and goals. For remuneration estimates, we recommend consulting the floor wages listed on the Working Artists and the Greater Economy (W.A.G.E.) fee calculator website at https://wageforwork.com/contracts#top
- When working with community members, the Center for Craft requires that all grant recipients provide financial remuneration for their time, labor, and services rendered towards the awarded project scope and goals.

GRANT REQUIREMENTS

Research and projects must be completed within the designated timeline as proposed in the recipient application. Incomplete projects will result in the awardee having to rescind funds. Awardees will not be eligible to apply for a Center for Craft grant or fellowship opportunity in the future if the project remains incomplete.

- Fifty percent (50%) of the grant funds will be distributed upon return of a signed grant agreement form between the Center for Craft and the recipient and receipt of the recipient’s W9.
- Twenty percent (20%) of the grant funds will be distributed upon receipt of the project status report halfway through the grant period due September 30, 2024. The status report should include:
  - A synopsis of research conducted thus far, i.e., archives, sites, institutions visited
  - Where you are in your proposed research timeline (as presented in the application)
  - How the funding has been used thus far
  - If there are changes to your research timeline or planned outcome please submit a revised project description outlining the current status of your proposal and any timeline or budget adjustments as they develop to the Grant Program Manager - Research & Ideas for approval.

- Thirty percent (30%) of the grant funds will be distributed upon receipt of the recipient’s final report and two copies of any publication produced as a result of the research grant award. Projects and final reports must be completed in 18 months, with a deadline of August 30, 2024. If there is no publication, then applicants must provide a copy of the completed research in full. The final report should include:
  - 3-5 images relating to the research
  - Please include attendance and audience engagement numbers from conferences, workshops, symposiums, and exhibitions associated with funded research.
  - Project narrative and research outcomes
  - Budget report
- Recipients must provide content for at least one blog post.
- Recipients will acknowledge support from the Center for Craft by including the tag “This research was supported by a Center for Craft Research Fund” in any publications or presentations resulting from the grant.

CRITERIA/REVIEW PROCESS
Proposals will be reviewed by the Center for Craft staff for completeness and evaluated by an outside review panel, who are recognized craft scholars, researchers, and/or curators, free of any conflict of interest, based on the following criteria:

- If completed properly, the proposal will advance scholarship and knowledge on craft in the United States
- The plan for dissemination identifies an intended audience, is reasonable, and has supporting documentation as appropriate
- The project is feasible based on the timeline, applicant expertise, and budget reflected in the application
- The project addresses the goals of the Craft Research Fund Project Grant
- Representation and/or visibility - priority will be given to applicants whose research and proposed project address underrepresentation in craft
- The project is consistent with and furthers the mission of the Center for Craft

The Center for Craft reserves the right to limit the support of a project to a particular portion(s) or cost(s).

Considerations in final selection:
The Center for Craft respects, values, and celebrates the unique attributes, characteristics, and perspectives that make each person who they are. We foster open communication of diverse perspectives and bring a broad range of individuals together to enrich and support programming. Ultimately, we will ask the Selection Panel to compose a set of recipients deserving of further recognition while prioritizing diversity, both in and outside of academia, and representing a range of geographies, materials, and communities served.
