2016 AT A GLANCE

February: In response to a lawsuit filed by GRN, the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Alabama restricted Alabama and federal officials from spending $58.5 million of BP drilling disaster “natural resource restoration” funds to construct a hotel and conference center along an Alabama beach.

April: Through the advocacy of GRN and Texas residents, the RESTORE Council funded six BP restoration projects along the Texas Coast totaling $26 million.

Through monitoring, commenting, and challenging Corps of Engineers wetland destruction permits, GRN helped protect and restore 4,890 acres of wetlands in Gulf states in 2016.

August: GRN and partners pressured agencies to increase mitigation for a destructive oil pipeline project. This advocacy resulted in over 4,000 more acres added to the Maurepas Swamp Wildlife Management Area.
