Digital Document Verification

Trax✓Print™

Digital Document Verification

The ability to send a document via email for verification, has never been done.

With our Trax Print document verification system the receiving party can ensure a documents authenticity.

Perfect for:

- Private documents
- Internal documents
- Banks
- ID Verification
- Policy Documents
- Contracts

Process

- The document owner places a Trax Code on the document, verifying its origin and authenticity.
- The document is sent via email to another person, such as a bank for ID verification.
- The receiver sends the email to check@traxprint.com to verify documents attached.
- A couple of minutes later a response will be given confirming the document.
- If the document is valid, a certificate of authenticity will be sent with the email.
- The original owner of the document is also notified if the document is verified. This enables them to raise concern if this was not authorised.

With multi-layer encryption and triple level validation the closed loop Trax Print system has military level security.
