

Materials List:

Oregon Art Supply is generously offering a 20% discount on all materials for this class!

Remember, they have curbside pickup - just call the store!

Palette - a 12x16 (or larger) disposable paper palette pad. Get white, not gray. (Any palette you currently have and enjoy using is also fine.)

Palette knife – not a teeny one. You want to be able to scoop up a pile of paint with it. I recommend the tip to be about 2 inches long, and flexible. I like the RGM softgrip no. 45 (blue handle)

Rags or paper towels (I like disposable blue shop towels, available at hardware stores)

Solvent: Gamsol or Turpenoid

A glass jar with tight-fitting lid, or another container for Gamsol

Medium: Gamblin's Solvent-Free Gel, walnut oil, linseed oil, liquin, or similar.

Paint - I use M. Graham brand. Please include the following colors (or alternatives, in parentheses):

Titanium white

Cadmium Red (naphthol red, pyrrole red, cadmium red light)

Alizarin Crimson (quinacridone red or quin magenta)

Ultramarine Blue (cobalt blue)

Ivory black

Hansa Yellow (Cadmium lemon, Azo yellow, Bismuth yellow)

Cadmium Yellow

Brushes - I use Princeton Summit series taklon (synthetic, white bristles, green handles) for this course, but you may use whatever you prefer. A good starter set is a #2 round and a #4 flat.

Cleanup: Murphy's oil soap or The Master's Brush Cleaner and Preserver

Canvases or other painting surfaces:

One 12 x 16" surface - canvas, canvas panel, or arches oil paper, for Stroke Economy

Three 9x12" surfaces - canvas, canvas panel, or arches oil paper for Twisted 20's.

Both a square canvas and a rectangular canvas - any size you'd like to work on for about 2 hours. I recommend an 8x8 or an 8x10.

A standing travel easel. A "french easel" half or full-sized, or similar. *Note: I recommend standing up to paint, and we will discuss why during the class day. If your home studio only accommodates a table-top easel, then that is just fine.

A TV table or side table for your palette (optional)

A digital camera and an email account.
