

Digital Business Consulting Services

South 6 offers a complete suite of information technology consulting services, from individual consultants to project teams to strategic outsourcing.

Our individual consultants and project teams deliver the business knowledge and hard-to-find technical expertise our clients need on their projects. Our consultants can fill knowledge gaps on current teams or work independently under our clients' direction as functional or technical consultants, business analysts, architects, developers, and engineers.

Our outsourcing services leverage our strategic partner network to incorporate established industry know-how, including project management methodologies, expertise in emerging technologies, and proven strategies for seamless integration with an organization's core business and technology. We provide consulting services directly to our clients specializing in applications from IBM, Oracle, SAP, Epicor, Microsoft, Adobe, Infor, and others.
