HEDY! The Life & Inventions of Hedy Lamarr

Educational, Interactive, & Outreach Activities

• Question & Answer Sessions will be offered after every performance.
  • Audience members will have the opportunity to ask questions they may have about the inventions of Hedy Lamarr, and about her life as an actress and inventor
  • Providing an opportunity to prompt discussion among the audience about ideas which the play presents

• Panel Discussion - including myself and area women in STEM fields to discuss:
  • The science behind Hedy's inventions
  • The triumphs & challenges of women in the scientific community
  • Ways to move forward toward a more equitable environment in which female scientists of all ages can thrive

• Lecture
  • 10-70 Minute PowerPoint Lecture on Hedy Lamarr including scenes from the show
  • Followed by a Question & Answer session

• Workshops for Young Scientists
  • I am currently working toward developing programs to pair with the show for Young Scientists for use in conjunction with Science Centers and educational institutions
  • These will utilize interactive, fun activities around the concepts of:
    • Hedy Lamarr's technology - Frequency Hopping & Spread Spectrum Technology,
    • and investigation of other scientific concepts
  • I am open to ideas, for tailoring these activities to your specific needs and mission

• Performance Workshops for area youth & artists with focus(es) on
  • Ensemble Building
  • Improvisation
  • Performance
  • Development of new work
  • Self Producing

Continued
• Visits to classes when in educational settings / Visits to area schools
  • Visits to classes with special interests in regard to the show, such as science, history, performance, etc.
  • Activities would be tailored to the specific interests of the class

• Workshops for area scientists with focus on
  • Using skills of performance to more effectively communicate scientific concepts in the classroom and the workplace

I am open to any ideas these possibilities may prompt and we can work together to create a program ideal for your venues.
