

PRODUCT MANAGER

Job Brief

Vettons seeks an experienced Product Manager with a strong background in leading and maintaining product development and improvement life cycle. Roles focusing on managing stakeholder's expectations, scoping and proposing solutions for internal and projects assigned in collaborative Agile teams.

You will work on projects from inception to delivery, translating requests and requirements of eCommerce marketplace product from and to the Product, Operation, Marketplace, Technology, Marketing, Designers, Finance and other internal stakeholders into current, ad-hoc and next-generation solutions.

Responsibilities

- Understanding of product roadmap and project objectives.
- Develop business case and studies for product.
- Lead and inspire cross functional teams from conceptualization to launching.
- Identify team members to involve in each epics or projects assigned.
- Facilitate feasibility meetings with team members for grooming and objectives sharing.
- Assisting product owners for task prioritization in the product backlog.
- Mentoring product owners to help them remove any challenges in their daily task duties.
- Facilitating progress of all squads assigned.
- Define key performance indicators for products, measure and publish them.
- Stakeholder management - Work with stakeholders to understand their feedback, future plan for product and communicate the status to them on a periodic basis.
- Timeline management for deliveries.
- Timely report to HOD on each squad's progress.

Requirements & Skills

- Product development background and understand the needs and dynamics of software development teams.
- Strong analytical and organizational skills to manage the myriad of details that must be thoughtfully considered.
- Experience with technical requirements specification and development, such as process/functional requirements definition methods, use case development, process flow diagrams.

- Experience using analytical tools and techniques to investigate information and to draw conclusions.
- Experience with Retail & ECommerce product management is a must. Subject matter expert in ECommerce is a bonus.
- Excellent communication cross functional, cultures, ideally and collaboration skills with open and generous with sharing your knowledge and experiences to help others.
- Mastery of the fundamental principles of software development and operations, software operational writing (e.g., CPRE, PSPO, PSM, ITIL, PMI, PMP, Scrum Master, etc.) is a bonus.
- Familiarity with JIRA, Agile and Scrum methodologies.
- Ability to work independently with minimal supervision.