

PRODUCT OWNER

Job Brief

Vettons seeks an experienced Product Owner with a strong background in maintaining product development and improvement life cycle. Roles focusing on catering solutions for internal and external frontend mobile and web applications in collaborative Agile teams.

You will work on projects from inception to delivery, translating requests and requirements of eCommerce marketplace products. You will be responsible for omni channel fulfillment platform and collaborate with cross-functional teams. By developing creating product specs, breaking down the stories for the business as well as engineering teams following agile processes.

Responsibilities

- Analyse, define, propose and document flow and requirements into Confluence.
- Manage epic and create user stories break down for designers, developers and QA.
- Manage task prioritization and grooming of user stories.
- Sharing of features goals to team members.
- Conducting feasibility studies and research.
- Facilitating sprint planning and backlog management.
- Release management.
- Stakeholder management - Work with cross functional stakeholders to understand their feedback, future plan for product and communicate the status to them on a periodic basis.
- Participate in daily stand up to be updated on squad's daily progress.

Requirements & Skills

- Ability to understand technical and business concepts quickly.
- Product development background and understand the needs and dynamics of software development teams.
- Strong analytical and organizational skills to manage the myriad of details that must be thoughtfully considered.
- Experience in international trading, brands, logistics or eCommerce in product management is a bonus.
- Experience with technical requirements specification and development, such as process and functional requirements definition methods, use case development, process flow diagrams is a bonus.

- Experience using analytical tools and techniques to investigate information and to draw conclusions is a bonus.
- Excellent communication across cultures ideally and collaboration skills with open and generous with sharing your knowledge and experiences to help others.
- Mastery of the fundamental principles of software development and operations, software operational writing (e.g., CPRE, PSPO, PSM, ITIL etc.) is a bonus.
- Familiarity with JIRA, Agile and Scrum methodologies.
- Ability to work independently with minimal supervision.