

Acknowledging the efforts of Indore entrepreneurs

Sunil Panjwani, zonal head, HDFC Bank

For its initiative titled Meri Kahani Meri Zubaani, HDFC bank has recently tied up with The Times of India, to recognize, felicitate and celebrate the business leaders who have carved a niche for themselves with their consistent hard work and dedication over the years. The campaign not only succeeded in bringing out some of the phenomenal stories, but also in encouraging and motivating the next generation to take the road less travelled.

A city entrepreneur, Tapan Sharma says,

"There will always be people who treat you right and there will be those who don't. I would like to say that one must not get affected by the latter and should hold on to the former." Echoing similar sentiments, another city businessman, Anshul Agrawal shares, "To me, business isn't about wearing suits or pleasing stockholders. It's about being true to yourself, your ideas and focusing on the essentials."

The zonal head (MP) of the bank, Sunil Panjwani believes that a successful business takes years of hard work, dedication, and persistence. "As they say you cannot get into the business just for the fashion of it. This holds true now more than ever as the current hustle culture has given rise to a new breed of entrepreneurs who look for quick returns. However, businesses take years of hard work and grit. This latest initiative shares inspiring stories of Indian industrialists who not only dared to chase their dreams despite hurdles but stayed persistent enough to find success."
