Resident artists explore how new works were created, performed, and experienced during a yearlong residency. This edition of Jump Start invites our four 60th Season puppet resident artists (a program funded in part by The Jim Henson Foundation and Cheryl Henson) to showcase a live presentation of their works-in-progress.

Running time 90 minutes with a 10 minute intermission
Other Atlantas: A Prologue
By Marcella Murray

Julliette Holliday (she/her) is a New York based multi-hyphenate artist—writer, composer, performer, director, teaching artist and producer. She studied theatre, dance, and history at Sarah Lawrence College and now explores theater-making methodologies that dig into the forgotten pieces of Black history and the tangible magic of Black futures in her own creative work. Most recently Julliette wrapped up her position as the former artistic programming associate for the New Victory Theater, fostering the development of new work for kid and family audiences in their LabWorks program. She is currently the associate creative producer for Nehprii Amenii, a ballet teacher for Tutu School Brooklyn, and the Education Manager for Trusty Sidekick.

Ashley Winkfield is a multidisciplinary artist from Durham, NC where they grew up surrounded by music and the arts. They began their journey into professional performance at UNC-Chapel Hill where they were introduced to puppetry while workshopping Basil Twist's Rite of Spring. Ashley specializes in new and devised works presented in New York (Jazz at Lincoln Center, Abrons Art Center, La MaMa Experimental Theatre), North Carolina (Duke University) and internationally. They currently train with Shannah Rae Vocal Studios and Lucid Body Technique. Ashley is currently based in New York City and Winston-Salem, NC. Find out more about their recent projects at AshleyWinkfield.com

Sarah Colyn Scholl is a queer Brooklyn-based artist working primarily in visual art, installation, and puppet performance. Freedom, the absurd, and play is the foundation of Colyn's artistic practice. They are interested in creating art that celebrates the act of questioning and aliveness. Currently, they are developing a new work titled Ode to the End Times and other Tomato Facts. A performance piece exploring the “end” of the “world.”

Marcella Murray is an NYC-based theater artist from Augusta, Georgia. She is a playwright, performer, and puppeteer. Her work is inspired by the ways in which people tend to segregate and reconnect. Her work tends to focus on themes of identity within a community and forward momentum in the face of trauma. Performances include Sonntags wird gelogen Or We Only Lie on Sundays (Leonie Bell/The Brick), The Slow Room (Annie Dorsen/Performance Space NY), and Shoot Don't Talk (Andrew Murdock/St. Ann's Warehouse Puppet Lab). Along with David Neumann, she co-created Distances Smaller Than This Are Not Confirmed (Obie Special Citation) which opened at Abrons Arts Center (co-produced by Chocolate Factory) in January 2020 and the digital piece Primer for an Impossible Conversation at MCA Chicago in 2021. Marcella is currently 1 of 4 curators of the Object Movement Puppetry Residency and is a 2022 Resident Artist at La MaMa.

“Part celestial creature, part sophisticated human” is how Charlotte Lily Gaspard has been described by Faerie Magazine when contemplating the ethereal artist and her work in one of their features. Shadow puppet artist, storyteller, and a “multi-faceted enchantress... the fanciful mastermind behind Midnight Radio Show” {Broadway World}, Charlotte’s mission is to activate imaginations and celebrate playfulness wherever she goes. Her work has been supported by Cheryl Henson and the Jim Henson Foundation, Brooklyn Arts Council, ART N.Y., Make Art with Purpose, and New York Restoration Project. Look out for her first short film, “Being and Becoming” to be released in 2023, produced by Heather Henson’s Handmade Puppet Dreams. She is honored to be back at La MaMa, and eternally grateful for the love and support of her family, friends and collaborators. The Magic is Real.

Alyssa Gray is so excited to be debuting with Midnight Radio Show and La MaMa! Recent credits: Off Broadway/Tour: Rebirth of Rabbits Foot (Swing), Hamlet (Laertes/Rosencrantz), Much Ado About Nothing (Hero/Borachio). Regional: The Art of Killin’ It (Da Body/Sarah), UCC Omega (Jane Pointe). Endless love to friends and family, as well as her furry child, Leo. @_alyssa_gray__
Cleopatra Boudreau is an actor, writer and creator originally from the sloped neighbourhood of Riverdale in Toronto, who now calls New York her home. Her recent theatre credits include Clean Slate (Talisman Theatre), Smackhead (We Are One) and MILK (Arena Festival of the Arts). In addition to her work onstage, her career includes film and television credits such as The Bold Type (Freeform), and Bellevue (CBC). She is thrilled to be sailing through the fantastical universe of Midnight Radio Show, and to be living in the magic land of this science fiction fairytale.

Quinn Dixon is a multi-disciplinary movement artist and a somatic practitioner living in Brooklyn NY. They use dance, music, performance, clothing design, poetry, crafts and photographs to communicate. Quinn has collaborated with immersive theater companies, musical artists, and independent choreographers.

Shabbi Sharifi is an Iranian American theatre artist and writer based out of Brooklyn. She graduated from LIU Post in 2017 and since then has toured and has been appearing in shows in the Manhattan area. She is a children's theatre enthusiast and has done a lot of theatrical work concerning sexual education for grade school students and teens. She's currently training at Matthew Corozine Studio and has been working on preparing the launch of her theatre company which is scheduled to happen later this year/early next year. Instagram: @shabbisharifi

Doc Frost aka Leigh-Antony Rucker Floyd, better known as L.A. has had a varied career in the industry as a writer, actor, composer, and musician. Over the years L.A. has been a key figure in both pre and post production for the New York New Media Association, Third World Newsreel, BRIC arts, INIVA, and Penup! Writers Collective. L.A. has dedicated his life to creativity, growth, and discovery. L.A. believes “An exploration of art should be as limitless as the depths of your imagination”. L.A. has a reputation for breaking barriers and working with the brightest talent from the vanguard to the darkest corners of the underground.

Alex Betancourt is a costume designer and builder. Alumni of the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT), she is a stitcher and costumer for NYC’s spectacular burlesque theater Company XIV. See her work on Instagram: @alexbetancourtcreations

ERMIONE / ORACLE – Alyssa Gray
NARRATOR / MIA – Charlotte Lily Gaspard

Aaron Haskell (Creator, Director, Puppet Designer/Builder) is a puppeteer, puppet maker, director, designer, actor, dancer and visual artist living and working in NYC since 2000. Dance: Fellowship at Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater 2000-2001. As a dancer he’s worked with Suarez Dance Theatre, Physual, Loco7 and Dzul Dance. Notable plays, I Love Paris and Fatal Attraction: a Greek Tragedy. As a puppeteer in War Horse 1st National and International Tour (2012 – 2015), Cirque Du Soleil’s International tour of Toruk: The First Flight (2016 – 2019), UAE 48th National Day (2019), Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade. His love for puppetry really spawned when he started to work with Loco7 at La MaMa in Bokan: The Bad Hearted (2004 - 2006) and most recently in Lunch with Sonia (2021). This was where he really started to gel all the forms of artistry he has studied, dance, art, and acting. Aaron was a builder and designer for 10 years creating some of the specialty props and puppets for Nightmare: NYC’s most Horrifying Haunted House as well as for numerous theatre and film productions including creating puppets for Rhino Leap’s The Tempest in North Carolina (2016), Tori Bend’s The Paper Hat Game (2016) under the name Brooklyn Art Department. Under this name he created and directed, Wake Up, You’re Dead! Presented and produced by La MaMa (2010). Me_irl at the Nightmare Horror play festival in NYC (2016) and most recently with his newly named company, Second Sister Productions he had year long residency at St. Ann’s Warehouse Puppet Lab where he started developing The Pact (2016), which tells the story of two wolves and their impossible survival told through the parable storytelling, puppetry, dance, and live music. He’s also have done workshops for The Pact at Dixon Place and in Sanya, China. He was one of two directors and puppetry director/designer and builder to the critically acclaimed The rise and fall, then brief and modest rise followed by a relative fall of… Jean Claude Van Damme as gleaned by a single reading of his wikipedia page months earlier (2022). He is one of the puppet supervisors for Disney’s The Lion King on Broadway. He is also working on an opera, Dream Sequence in which there was the first workshop in December 2019 at Dixon Place. He is very excited and thankful to be back at La MaMa to continue developing The Pact. Follow all my adventures www.AaronHaskell.com, @ThePactPlay and @AaronHaskells (instagram). He dedicates this show to his mother, Barbie and his awesome and loving partner Juliana.
Alia Kache (Dance Choreography/ Mother Ancestor/ Mother Ancestor Wolf/ Ensemble) Alia Kache (Chattanooga, TN) received her early training at Center for Creative Arts and Chattanooga Ballet, and graduated from the Aliley/Fordham B.F.A. program in 2004. Her favorite credits include Ailey II, Nathan Trice/RITUALS, Pilobolus Creative Services, Radio City Christmas Spectacular, CeDeCe (Alcobaça, Portugal), Big League Theatrical’s Aida, Camille A. Brown & Dancers, and Disney’s The Lion King. Artistic director of Kachal Dance and former rehearsal director for Ailey II, her work has been performed by Ailey II, Ballet Memphis, Collage Dance Collective, Houston Contemporary, Towson University, Middle Tennessee State University, The Ailey School, and seen at Bryant Park, Cistermusica, and FringeNYC. Her talents as a dancer, choreographer, singer, and costume designer have led her to become a Lincoln City Fellow, artist in residence with RestorationART in Brooklyn, NY, and the BalletX 2021 Choreographic Fellow. Visit www.aliakache.com to learn more!

Toby Billowitz (Big Bad Son/ Ensemble) is mad happy to be working with Aaron Haskell and this lovely group. Toby has been a horse on Broadway, a reindeer in the Macy’s parade, a Cheshire Cat with Bob the Drag Queen, and an assortment of other things. He has danced with RaCoCo, Jill Sigman/Thinkdance, Jordan Fuchs, and Despina Stamos, to name a very few.

Soomi Kim (Mother Ancestor Wolf/ Ensemble) is an actor/dancer/choreographer/performing artist. As a performer and lead artist, she has created 5 full length works, most recently “Body Through Which the Dream Flows” (The Tank and New Ohio Theatre’s Ice Factory). Others include “MLCG (My Little China Girl) commissioned by Dixon Place. A trilogy of hybrid plays inspired by Asian American visionaries: “Chang(e)” (HERE Arts Center, 2015) “Dictee: bells fall a peal to sky” (2012) and “Lee/gendary” (2008; 3 NYITA wins). All three shows were featured workshops at the 1st, 3rd and 4th National Asian American Theater Festivals and were devised in collaboration with director Suzi Takahashi. Kim’s career expands from downtown and regional theater, indie film and web series appearances to live staged martial arts industrials. Residencies: The Assembly Theater’s Deceleration Lab, OP’s Greenhouse Lab, HERE Arts Center, Mabou Mines, Marble House Project, Asian Arts Initiative and Hemispheric Institute. www.soomikim.com

Chloe Marveaux (Partner/ Ensemble) was born and raised in New York City. She received her dance training at the Alvin Ailey School, LaGuardia High School of the Performing Arts, and Princeton University, where she also received a degree in Psychology. Since moving back to NYC, she has had the pleasure of dancing for choreographers including Nadine Bommer, Justin Boccitto, the Kuperman Brothers, Eamon Foley, Jaqueline Buglisi, Lisa Eaton, and Karla Garcia, for brands including Verizon and Jägermeister, and on MTV’s Video Music Awards. She also co-founded The Lattice Collective, a contemporary dance project with Beau Dobson and Brittany Posas, and had her own choreography presented at the DUMBO Dance Festival in NYC. Chloe is currently a dance artist with Adam Battelstein’s touring company, Catapult.
James A. DANCE COMPANIES: Martha Graham, BalletMet Columbus, Ballet Hispanico, Ailey 2, Complexions Contemporary Ballet.

Brittany Posas (Partner/ Ensemble) is an avid proponent of movement as medicine. She's dedicated her life to movement as a meditative practice, as a connective practice, and views herself as a forever student. She is a professional contemporary dancer and aerialist, with background in hand balancing, martial arts, and advanced yoga asana. She is also a fitness professional, with certifications in personal training, fitness nutrition, group personal training and corrective exercise—she teaches many different styles of exercise and spent 3 years assisting Physical Therapists in their practice, helping people heal through movement. As a professional movement artist, Brittany has had the privilege to perform work by Catapult Entertainment, Kinetic Architecture Dance Theatre, The Lattice Collective (a project dance company of which she was a founding member), Kristin Sudeikis, Matthew Rushing, Merce Cunningham (set by Andrea Weber), Hope Boykin, Jonathon Alsberry, and has performed her own aerial hoop solo act at The Slipper Room and Cirquehaus. She is thrilled to be debuting work with The Pact under the artistic genius of Aaron Haskell.

Juliana Gomez (Costume Designer) Juliana has been surrounded by and has worked within the Fashion industry her whole life. Native to Colombia, Juliana made the move to NYC 5 years ago. The Pact is her first foray into costume design and is having a blast. And loves working with her Partner in crime, Aaron.

JBO (James Brown-Orleans) (Original Music) is a blessed 20 year cast member of Disney's The Lion King on Broadway. When JBO is not on stage playing the role of Banzai, he is passionately pursuing his love of music.

Nathan Koci (Original Music) plays the accordion, conducts Broadway shows, accompanies contemporary dancers, enthuses about folk music, teaches improvisation, and gets by as a hack pianist and french hornist in many a discipline. He's featured on Sam Sadigursky's recent release, The Solomon Diaries, and currently conducts the 1st National Tour of Anais Mitchell's folk-musical Hadestown. Other credits include Daniel Fish's Oklahoma! (Broadway, West End), Most Happy in Concert (Williamstown Theater Festival), Ted Hearne's The Source (BAM, SF Opera, LA Opera) and John Heginbotham/Maira Kalman's The Principals of Uncertainty (BAM). He also loves performing in the chamber-folk improv band The Hands Free. www.nathankoci.com
