Overtone Industries develops and presents new multidisciplinary operas and music theater, bringing to life vivid, original stories and myths. Founded in 1980 by Artistic Director O-Lan Jones, Overtone Industries is dedicated to creating original work of mythic proportions. Overtone Industries has produced more than twenty original works across the country at such lauded venues as La Mama in New York, The Met Theater, and the Ford Theatre in Los Angeles, and the Magic theater in San Francisco. Overtone Industries is the recipient of numerous awards including the Bay Area Critics Circle Award for Original Score, the Dramalogue Award for Best Overall Production, the Ovation Award for Best Costumes, and two Emmy Awards for best Original Score and Design.

O-Lan Jones (she/her) Co-Creator, is an award-winning composer, sound designer, writer, and actress who has been consistently involved in experimental theater, music, and opera since the age of sixteen. The press has referred to her as an “uncategorizable legend.” She has created original sound designs and scores for over fifty productions in San Francisco, Los Angeles, London and New York, in collaboration with Padua Hills Playwrights, LA Woman's Shakespeare Company, the Taper Too, Playwrights Horizons, and Bay Area Shakespeare Festival among others. As an actress, she has originated roles in productions and readings of over 100 plays including those of Sam Shepard, Julie Hébert, and Beth Henley. Her screen credits include iconic works like Natural Born Killers, The Truman Show, Seinfeld, The X-Files, Shameless and three of Tim Burton's films including Edward Scissorhands. Since 2015, Miz Jones has been working with Lauren Bon and Metabolic Studio as a composer as well as conductor of the Metabolic Choir weekly singing practice. During the pandemic she conducted the offshoot Interdependence Community Choir using the improvisational methods she invented for The Spontaneous Combustion Choir. This year-and-a-half long project culminated in Lauren Bon’s film, Satellite Radio Choir.

Emmett Tinley (he/him) Co-creator, was born in Chicago and grew up in Co. Wicklow in Ireland. Through the 1990s he fronted the critically acclaimed Irish band The Prayer Boat. Emmett signed a solo deal with Atlantic Records in 2002. His first solo album, ‘Attic Faith’, was recorded in New York in March 2003 with Australian producer Victor Van Vugt (Nick Cave, Beth Orton, PJ Harvey). It was released in April 2005 to rave reviews and nominated for the Choice Music Prize for Best Irish Album of 2005. Reviewers called it “...one of the most stunningly beautiful albums you’re likely to hear all year”, “...the most glorious, heartfelt paeans to loves lost, loves left behind and loves that never really existed in the first place except in your wildest imaginings”, “…a gorgeously fragile, deliciously delicate album to make you fall in love with sad songs again.” The Irish Times praised it as “Up there with the albums of Rufus Wainwright or Jeff Buckley. Truly sublime.” A second solo album, ‘Emmett Tinley’, was released in 2011 to excellent reviews. Emmett is currently working on a new album, with plans to release new tracks in 2023. www.emmett-tinley.com

Storey Littleton (she/her) GUITAR, is a songwriter and multi-instrumentalist from Woodstock NY. She grew up on the road with a family band, playing the recorder in libraries and dive bars across America. She spent her teenage years as a devoted student at The Rock Academy in Saugerties, NY. During her time there she played guitar for Courtney Love and headlined a Frank Zappa festival in Germany. Recently, she's worked as a guitarist/vocalist for Amy Helm, Simi Stone, Amanda Palmer and Arc Iris. Storey also continues to collaborate with her family, playing guitar in her parents' band Ida and composing for an upcoming project. She is currently anticipating the imminent release of her debut solo album, which she recorded and co-produced last year. Her music has been described as “unsettling yet inspiring and alluring, complex and realized in a fit of charm, whipsmart razor sharp wit, epic sadness and a disturbing sense of danger, brilliance and beauty.” Storey has toured nationally as a bandleader, recently having embarked on a self booked co-headlining tour with frequent collaborator Livia Reiner. She plans to tour again soon and dreams of playing Montreal on her next run.

Sunny Sheu (she/her) VIOLIN, is a Taiwanese-American violinist, pianist, and freelance music producer. Although classically trained, Sunny plays music of all genres and finds inspiration from game and film scores. She is a violin chairholder for the Radio City Christmas Spectacular Orchestra, and frequently subs on violin and keyboard on Broadway. Several interdisciplinary works that she has performed include Jonathan Dawe’s Cracked Orlando and Jack McGuire's We All Should Help. Sunny has also had the pleasure of being the music advisor and main actor stunt double for the Taiwanese film Reborn, where she worked on set with the director and actors extensively for 2 months. Last summer, she premiered American Opera Projects’ contemporary opera Letters That You Will Not Get: Women’s Voices from the Great War. You can also find her performing and touring with the progressive jazz/rock ensemble NYChillharmonic. When she is not performing, Sunny experiments in sound mixing and scoring for indie games and films.

Joshua W. Marcum (he/him) BASS, has performed across many genres of music at noted venues including Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall, Jazz at Lincoln Center, Birdland, Iridium, Mezzrow, Smoke, Washington’s Blues Alley, and more. He received his M.M. and P.S.D. from the Mannes School of Music in New York City, where he studied with Orin O’Brien, Marji Danilow, and Rex Surany. At home in orchestral and jazz settings, Marcum spent the past decade working with legendary guitarist Gene Bertoncini, and has performed alongside jazz greats Bucky Pizzarelli, Les Paul, Donald Brown, Roni Ben-Hur, Roger Kellaway, Gregoire Maret, Mike Mainieri, and Frank Vignola. During the Covid-19 Pandemic, Josh produced a series of concerts at NY Irish Center, bringing top names in jazz to Queens. He has appeared on numerous recording projects including an upcoming release of Brazilian music by composer Luiz Millan; on film in Nummer Twaalf by Dutch artist Guido Van der Werve; radio broadcasts including Sirius XM’s Holiday Special at Jazz at Lincoln Center with gospel great Kim Burrell; and on TV’s new NBA Theme written by Jon Batiste (2021).

Sara Dudley (she/her) VIOLA, is a violist and violinist originally from Nashville, TN now residing in New York. She holds a BM in Violin Performance from the Aaron Copland School of Music, Queens College, and a MM in Viola Performance from the Manhattan School of Music. As an educator, Sara is a violin/viola faculty member at Convent of the Sacred Heart and maintains a private studio. She has garnered an impressive array of performing credits, including the Nashville Early Music Ensemble, Trans-Siberian Orchestra, New England Symphonic Ensemble, Bronx Opera, New Amsterdam Opera, and the Chelsea Symphony. She has performed at major music festivals such as Bonnaroo and SXSW. She has also made three television appearances including CMT’s Artist of the Year Award, performing with country artist Eric Church, the hit show Nashville, and the Amazon Original Series Mozart in the Jungle. Most recently, Sara was a resident violist for Lincoln Center Stage, an exclusive partnership between Lincoln Center and Holland America Line.

Tiffany Wu (she/her) HARP, is a freelance harpist based in NYC and LA. She is passionate about creating multimedia performance experiences and exploring music as a civic practice. Her current interests and involvements include arts and incarceration, and the intersectionality between literature and song. Past and present engagements include performing with Protestra, City Lyric Opera, West Coast Music, the Chelsea Symphony, After Arts, Yardbird Entertainment and more, at venues including Manhattan Manor, the DiMenna Center, and Theatre Row. An avid performer of new music, Tiffany has worked with numerous NYC composers to record and premiere new works. She received her B.M. in Harp Performance from Northwestern University under Lyric Opera harpists Elizabeth Cifani and Lynn Williams, and is pursuing her M.M. in Harp Performance under Brandee Younger. www.tiffanyhwu.com

Livia Reiner (she/her) Assistant Director, grew up working with O-Lan Jones and Overtone Industries on productions including Songs and Dances of Imaginary Lands and The Woman in the Wall, and now continues to collaborate in the theater. She has assisted the director Annie Dorsen, composed and performed original music in The Measures Taken for the Exponential Festival 2022, NYC, Atalanta for the Chicago Int’l. Puppet Festival 2019, and No Place Like at Pico House in 2016, LA. She also writes original songs, which can be found on bandcamp liviareiner.bandcamp.com

Mila Henry (she/her) Associate Conductor, is a conductor, pianist and music director who maintains a versatile portfolio, leading works spanning folk operas to rock musicals to reimagined classics. Hailed as “a stalwart contributor to the contemporary opera scene” (Opera Ithaca), she conducted Letters That You Will Not Get for The American Opera Project, Magdalene for PROTOTYPE and Words on the Street for Baruch PAC; assisted on The Night Falls for BalletCollective and PEAK Performances; and was Vocal Director for the Obie-winning The World is Round with Ripe Time. A “terrific” pianist (Opera News), Mila doubled on synthesizer for We Shall Not Be Moved at Opera Philadelphia, The Apollo, Dutch National Opera, and played rehearsals for Iphigenia with Real Magic, Octopus Theatricals. She has worked extensively with Beth Morrison Projects, HERE and PROTOTYPE, including as pianist for Looking at You, Mata Hari and Thumbprint, and répétiteur for the Pulitzer Prize-winning Angel’s Bone and p r i s m. She has also collaborated with American Lyric Theater, Experiments in Opera, Opera on Tap and OPERA America, and is currently Artistic Director of The American Opera Project. Mila holds degrees from the Manhattan School of Music and Elizabethtown College. She is based in New York, and is a member of the band Opera Cowgirls. Milahenry.com
Melanie Armer (she/her) Producer, has been producing independent theater in NYC for over 25 years. With her own company, Nerve Tank Media, she has produced twelve theater productions, three short films, and two audio dramas including Saturn's Return which won three Audio Verse Awards including Best New Story-Based Production. She was an Associate Producer in the Lincoln Center Programming Department under Jane Moss, where she was responsible for operas by Peter Sellars, dance productions by Mark Morris and MAU dance theater company, Stifter’s Dinge by Heiner Goebles at the Armory, and nearly fifty other theatrical and installation-based works by companies from around the world. She has also been sculpting in steel for the last 10 years and her interactive piece Sisyphus 2.0 is currently featured in TRANSFIX’s mobile exhibition in Las Vegas. Melanie is passionate about transparency in producing and (with no small thanks due to LaMaMa’s unerrng support) she is proud to say that the ICELAND budget upholds one of her core values; to ensure that artists and artisans (aka all the humans involved) are paid more than 50% of the total cost of a show. www.melaniearmer.com

Aislinn Curry (she/her) Production Manager & Video Production Lead, is a Production Manager, Producer and Stage Manager devoted to new and ambitious work across disciplines. Most recently, she returned to Bowdoin College to stage manage their productions of Our Town and A Raisin in the Sun. She worked with the World Science Festival from 2014-2017, Photoville from 2015-2017, and at HERE Arts Center from 2017-2019. AB/Classics - Bowdoin College, MFA/Stage Management - Columbia University. Instagram: @aislinn_curry (for cat photos).

Kate Croasdale (she/her) Production Stage Manager, is a freelance stage manager based in New York City. She recently served as the Production Stage Manager for Mud/Drowning at Mabou Mines. The evening featured Philip Glass’ transformation of María Irene Fornés’ play Drowning into an opera. Theater credits include: Sea Wall/A Life, Sunday in the Park with George, Hedwig and the Angry Inch, Ghost the Musical, Dead Accounts, Relatively Speaking, Drift the Play and Maurice Hines Tappin’ Thru Life. Kate has also worked with: City Center Encores!, New York Stage and Film, the Days and Nights Festival, the World Science Festival, Kaimera Productions and New York Theatre Ballet. She is proud to be a core teacher for the Peridance Certificate Program.

Michelle Tabnick PR, is a full-service public relations firm specializing in the arts. The company creates PR strategies with the goals of promoting the client’s brand image, building ticket sales, and reaching target audiences, with specific focus on integrated marketing campaigns.
Bare Opera is an alternative opera company in New York City reinventing the opera experience. Founded in 2014 by three women - Min Lew, Laetitia Ruccolo, and Kirsten Scott - the company has only evolved its mission and broadened its artistic base. With minimalist, modern aesthetics, our exceptional emerging and established artists bring you the bare essentials of opera—a candid, immersive theatrical experience with breathtakingly beautiful music at its core. Taking place in unconventional spaces like galleries and warehouses, we strive to strip opera of its clichés and create a visceral and intimate experience for audiences, experienced and new alike. Bare Opera is keeping opera alive in the 21st century, one fresh production at a time.

La MaMa’s historic, landmark building at 74 East 4th Street is undergoing an urgently needed complete renovation and restoration to preserve the historic façade, create building-wide ADA accessibility, and provide much needed performance, exhibition and community space for decades to come.

La MaMa, founded by Ellen Stewart in 1961, has been on east 4th Street since 1967. La MaMa embraces every person in its community and is legendary as the place where new artists of all nations, cultures, races, and identities are given opportunities. It is the place where art begins.
