

Lord Jesus, You are the perfect role model for all leaders who desire to live healthy, holy and blessed lives. You Yourself were tempted in every possible way, and yet You did not sin. So, You can certainly empathize with the challenges facing anyone in a position of leadership.

We ask for Your grace and protection over these leaders who genuinely desire to represent You well, protect their families, and serve as public servants.

We ask that You give them the power to say, “Yes,” to your Spirit, and “No,” to the world, the flesh, and the onslaught of temptations the enemy of their soul sends their way. We pray that husbands and wives would be faithful to their marriage commitments.

While they are away from home, as the patriarch Job admonished, let them make a covenant with their eyes to not look at impure images that would defile them.

While they are with their children, let them be fully present, loving, caring and praying for their wellbeing. Raise up intercessors to pray for the protection and safety of their marriages and families.

We know that You are the God of miracles, and that these prayers require Your miraculous intervention and protection. We pray that each night the fruit of your Spirit, faithfulness and self-control, would preserve them. That each morning your mercy and forgiveness would greet them as they open their hearts to you. Hear and answer their prayers, Oh God, and let favor surround them as a shield of protection.

We pray this in the mighty name of Jesus! Amen.
