ROSE FARM USAGE

Rose Farm is entitled to use the Photographer's high-resolution un-watermarked digital files, and the Photographer is issuing to Rose Farm an exclusive and perpetual limited license for commercial use of the digital files in the normal course of Rose Farm's business, including, but not limited to, advertising, marketing, or other promotions, or on the website, blog, or social media platforms. The digital files may be altered, edited, or manipulated only with Rose Farm obtaining permission from the Photographer. Rose Farm may add their business name, logo, website or other advertising or marketing campaign text to the digital files so long as it does not affect the elements of the image as styled by the Photographer.
