Astro Morphs

Astro Morphs is a collective that uses video art, prints, sculpture, music and costume to reimagine the different strains of nature in which we are immersed.

At Goolugatup Heathcote, Astro Morphs' Ctrl + H takes the form of an experimental combination of narrative, science, high art, and pulp culture. The project's protagonists, now evolved to the level of polymorphic neonates, surrender themselves to their new environment and bare witness to the inhabitant life forms.
